GRAND

Colonial Exhibition!

IN LONDON, ENGLAND, 1886.

Fifty-four Thousand Feet Reserved for Canada.

First Royal Exhibition Commission since 1862.

THE Colonial and Indian Exhibition to be held in London, England, commencing May 1st 1886, is intended to be on a scale of great magnitude, having for object to mark as much as the relations of all the part of the British Empire with each other.

In order to give become expressiveness to the event a Royal Charter has been issued for the holding of the Exhibition, for the first time since 1862 and this Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has been appointed President by Her Majesty.

There is a guarantee of £50,000 sterling has been given by the Dominion of Canada by way of the Prince, His Royal Highness.

The Exhibition is to be purely Colonial and Indian, and no compromise from the United Kingdom or from foreign nations will be permitted, the object being to exhibit to the world at large what the Colonies can do.

The greatest opportunity ever offered to Canada is thus afforded to show to the distinguished place she occupies by the prominent use her models in AGRICULTURE, in HORTICULTURE, in the INDUSTRIAL and FINE ARTS, in the MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES, in the NEWEST IMPROVEMENTS IN MANUFACTURING MACHINERY and IMPLEMENTS, in PUBLIC WORKS by MODELS and DRAWINGS; also in an adequate display of her vast resources in the FISHERIES, and in FOREST and MINERAL wealth, and also in SHIPPING.

All Canadians of all parts must rise as one man to come forward and vie with each other in endeavoring on this great occasion to put Canada in her true place as the premier colony of the British Empire, and to establish her proper position before the world.

Every farmer, every producer, and every manufacturer, has interest in assisting, it having been alre dy demonstrated that extension of trade always follows such efforts.

Sec. of the Dept. of Agriculture.

ANTWERP EXHIBITION.

Gratifying Result for British Columbia's Exhibitors.

Gold, Silver and Bronze Medals and Honorable Mentions.

British Columbia exhibits are again to the fore. In the published list of awards made by the jurors of the Antwerp exhibition we find that the goods sent from this province have carried off honors that must be regarded as highly satisfactory not only to the exhibitors themselves but likewise to British Columbia and the Dominion. When the advertisement called on intending exhibitors to forward goods little or no interest appeared to be taken in the matter. At last Mr. John Jessop, Dominion Immigration Agent, set to work energetically and induced several to contribute such as samples of canned salmon, coal, wheat, quartz, Indian curios, tan bark and leather, herring spawn and such like. The time at Mr. Jessop's disposal was limited; had he been able to collect a greater variety it is certain the result would have been equally satisfactory. The province, through Messrs. Turner, Beeton & Co., carried off the gold medal, for canned salmon, and the Vancouver Coal Company a silver medal for its coal; but the most gratifying of all is the silver and bronze medals and the honorable mention for fall and spring wheat. It will be observed that the samples exhibited were not from one local section, they were from Soda Creek, the Okanagan Mission and from Saanich, a triangular distance of at least four hundred miles apart from each other, proving conclusively the adaptability and superiority of British Columbia as a wheat growing province. The result of the awards will forever silence croakers who assert that wheat cannot be grown here. Ewen & Co., New Westminster, take a silver medal for canned salmon; Messrs. Oppenheimer Bros., of this city, are awarded a bronze medal for specimens of quartz, taken from the Burns Mountain, Cariboo; J. F. Hawks, Soda Creek, is awarded a silver medal for his fall and spring wheat; Messrs. Wm. Thompson, North Saanich, and F. Brent, Okanagan Mission, are awarded bronze medals in the same class. Joseph Spratt, of this city, is likewise awarded a bronze medal for canned salmon. Honorable mention is made of the exhibits of spring wheat made by Mr. J. D. Bryant, South Saanich; the Queen Charlotte Island Indian curios of Mr. Newton H. Chittenden; William Dalby, of the Belmont Tanning and Manufacturing Company, for display of tan bark and leather; and Mr. Matthias Oren for herring spawn. Thirteen gold medals were apportioned to Canada, one of which comes to this city; twelve silver medals, of which British Columbia gets three; twenty-two bronze medals, of which four are awarded this province; thirty honorables, out of which our exhibitors carry off four. The following is the official list:

GOLD MEDAL.—Turner, Beeton & Co., Victoria; canned salmon.

SILVER MEDALS.—Vancouver Coal Mining Company, Nanaimo, coal. J. F. Hawks, Soda Creek, fall and spring wheat. Ewen & Co., New Westminster, canned salmon.

BRONZE MEDALS.—Oppenheimer Bros., Victoria, Cariboo quartz. Wm. Thompson, North Saanich, fall wheat. F. Brent, Okanagan mission, fall wheat. Joseph Spratt, Victoria, canned salmon.

HONORABLE MENTIONS.—J. D. Bryant, South Saanich, spring wheat; N. H. Chittenden, Queen Charlotte Islands, Indian curios; William Dalby, Victoria, tan bark and leather; Matthias Oren, herring spawn.

The exhibits were collected as already stated by Mr. John Jessop, and he has just cause to feel elated with the result of his labors; they were transported hence by the Northern Pacific express through Messrs. Hall & Goepel and landed at their destination in perfect safety.

It is to be hoped that the provincial government will be induced to embrace in its estimates a sum to supplement that of the Dominion in making such a display at the Colonial exhibition in London next year as will be a credit to this province and the empire of which we form so important a portion. Nothing that we know of will pay so well, or advertise our country so thoroughly, as a well selected exhibit of our natural products, the manufactures of the country and reliable statistical information regarding the climate. All of which should be attended to without any stint—if we aim at keeping pace with the other provinces of Canada.

NORTHWEST COAL FIELDS.

The Galt Mines at Lethbridge—The Road to be Opened by the Governor General.

One hundred and fifty tons of coal per day are now being taking from the Galt coal mines, and preparations are being made to increase the output to two hundred tons and upwards accordingto demand. The C. P. R. takes 100 tons each day. Winnipeg is supplied at the rate of fifty tons per day. Thirty-six hours after the rails of the Galt road were laid to the bank head, coal was placed upon the cars for delivery. The hoisting engine is capable of hoisting one hundred tons each hour. It is the intention of the company to run daily trains from Dunmore junction to Lethbridge where the mines are situated. A train will consist of twenty cars with a carriage of eight and a half tons to each car or a total train capacity of one hundred and seventy tons. The distance is one hundred and nine miles, and the time occupied in making the run is six and a half hours. Lord Lansdowne will visit Lethbridge on the 23rd, when the road will be opened for traffic.

LIFE ASSURANCE.

The Montreal Life Assurance Company of New York.

Mr. H. F. Heisterman represents the above famous company in this province. It has assets valued by the Massachusetts department at $103,553,301; a sum which if rolled into a mass of pure gold would form a globe of precisely eight feet two and a quarter inches in diameter. Gold being the most malleable of metals it can be beaten into leaves of which 282,900 in thickness make one inch, and of which one pound Troy would cover two acres and 145½ rods. Yet the globe of gold mentioned, if beaten out into these transparent and flowing leaves, would spread over only 37.29 square miles. The company's ramifications are extensive in Canada as well as in the United States. The Montreal is not only the strongest financially but likewise one of the most liberal of all life assurance companies. Mr. Heisterman may well feel elated with his company.

NEWS BY CABLE.

TO-DAY'S DESPATCHES.

Financial Fluctuations.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Reports from various continental bourses show that a panicky feeling prevailed in financial circles during the greater part of the day, but towards the finish of business quotations at several bourses rallied somewhat from the lowest prices. The closing prices however show heavy declines as compared with Saturday's closing figures. Various rumors were set afloat to stock jobbers in order to keep up the excitement, including one to the effect that Turkey was mobilizing her army preparatory to reasserting her claims in Eastern Roumelia. The market at London Stock Exchange closed dull, with a slight recovery from the lowest point. American securities were steady.

The Bulgarian Revolution.

Special to THE TIMES.

VIENNA, Sept. 21.—An inspired article in the Frembden Blatt states that the unionist tendencies of Bulgarians and the Roumanians have repeatedly excited the serious attention of political circles. The powers continue to cherish a desire to respect and maintain the treaty of Berlin. The action of Prince Alexander of Bulgaria, in placing himself and his army at the head of the rising, constitutes a grave violation of international law. It is a challenge to Turkey. Europe cannot for the benefit of a single Balkan state, endorse this infraction of treaty rights, entailing a disruption of the balance of power, and of national political forces of the Balkan peninsula, as fixed by the Berlin treaty. It is premature to say definitely what common action will be taken by the powers, but it is certain that the government will be kept in the narrowest possible bounds, the powers retaining supreme control of events in the Balkans.

Independent of Russia.

Special to THE TIMES.

PARIS, Sept. 21.—Semi-official advices tend to confirm the report that Prince Alexander of Bulgaria acted entirely independent of Russia in annexing Roumelia, and was impelled only by Bulgarian public opinion. It is considered improbable that Turkey will accept pecuniary consideration for the loss of Roumelia, because the Baltic frontier is necessary to defend Constantinople. It is believed the Porte has resolved to fight in order to restore the statu quo, but the fact that the powers are desirous of peace diminishes the gravity of the situation.

Cholera in Sicily.

Special to THE TIMES.

ROME, Sept. 21.—Cholera is spreading in Sicily and the situation is becoming serious. Every town is cordoned. Conflicts between the populace and military are continuously occurring, and many persons have been wounded. A large military force is to be dispatched to the island to restore order.

Earthquake in Italy.

Special to THE TIMES.

ROME, Sept. 21.—Repeated shocks of earthquake were felt in Benevento today, causing a panic among the inhabitants, many of whom fled from the town. A large portion of the populace is camping out in anticipation of further shocks.

Communication Cut Off.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—All communication between Turkey and Bulgaria has been cut off. Turkey has stopped the issue of railway tickets for points beyond Adrianople. The Daily News this morning reminds its readers that when Disraeli effected the Berlin treaty Gladstone predicted the present disruption. Even the present ministry, the News says, will hardly venture to use England's influence to crush the growth of liberty in Roumelia.

Death of Osman Digma.

LONDON, Sep. 20.—Advices just received here relative to the death of Osman Digma say he was killed after a crushing defeat of his force of 3000 Hadendowas by the Kassala garrison and friendly tribes. The latter, after the defeat of Osman, sent ample supplies to Kassala.

An Objectionable Order Revoked.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 20.—United States Minister Cox and Consul-General Heap have succeeded in obtaining a revocation of the order expelling American Jews from Jerusalem.

Greek Brigands.

Special to THE TIMES.

SALONICA, Sept. 21.—Brigands have captured Archbishop Veriss, his niece and another lady. They demand the sum of £3,000 ransom for the prisoners.

Russians for Bulgaria.

Special to THE TIMES.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—A large number of Russians, who are believed to be volunteers, are passing through Bucharest daily, en route to Bulgaria.

The Servian King.

Special to THE TIMES.

BELGRADE, Sept. 21.—The King of Servia has returned from Vienna.

The Deposed Governor.

Special to THE TIMES.

SOPHIA, Sept. 21.—Gabreel Pasha, the deposed Governor of Roumelia, is a prisoner here. The National Assembly has been summoned to meet on Wednesday.

A Theatrical Manager Arrested.

Special to THE TIMES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—John A. Stevens, the well known playwright and late manager of the Grand Opera House of this city, was arrested to-day, just as he was stepping on board the steamer Columbia, sailing for Portland. The affidavit had been filed by some of his creditors that he was leaving the state to defraud his creditors. Mr. Stevens, on being brought before Judge Burke, acknowledged his indebtedness, but showed clearly that he had no intention of defrauding any one. He was immediately discharged.

A Heavy Failure.

Special to THE TIMES.

HARRISONBURG, Va., Sept. 21.—The Shenandoah Iron Co., at Milnes, in this county, has defaulted on the payment of some of its indebtedness, and a bill was filed in the circuit court, U. S., to-day, asking for an injunction and receiver. The parties to this action are the Seventh National Bank, Union Trust Safe Deposit and Insurance Co., Eighth National Bank, and John Miles, all of Philadelphia. The liabilities of the company are about $600,000, five hundred thousand of which is first mortgage bonds. The remainder is floating indebtedness. The injunction and receiver are asked for by creditors representing the floating debt.

ENORMOUS FRAUDS.

The C. P. R. Co. Victimized to the Extent of $200,000.

Special to THE TIMES.

MONTREAL, Sept. 21.—The Canadian Pacific Railway authorities have for some time entertained suspicions that they were being victimized by their civil engineers and contractors in the section north of Lake Superior. About a month ago all payments to contractors were stopped and a remeasurement of the different sections ordered. This has just been completed and it shows that by a blunder or fraud the company has paid to its contractors hundreds of thousand of dollars in excess of the amount of work done. One contractor alone has been paid more than $100,000 too much, and another $50,000. The full amount will aggregate half a million dollars. Detectives have discovered that engineers who were receiving salaries of $100 a month were wealthy landed proprietors and were engaged in extensive building pursuits, some of them being worth from thirty to forty thousand dollars, which has been accumulated in a wonderfully short time. It is stated that criminal and civil proceedings will be instituted. Many of the contractors implicated have already retained leading counsel to defend them who will plead that the remeasurements are incorrect.

Small-pox in Montreal.

Special to THE TIMES.

MONTREAL, Sept. 21.—The number of small-pox cases in St. Henri is increasing. A large percentage of the persons met on the streets of the village are freshly pockmarked, and nothing is done to check the disease. Owing to the death of some persons in the east end of this city who were not vaccinated, and the recovery of others who had been inoculated, many unbelievers in this method of fighting the disease are submitting themselves to the operation. The disease has made its appearance at Iberville in this province. At a meeting in St. Joseph Parish, it was stated the plague had spread to an alarming extent. The French people it was said were careless about the matter, and there was a danger of a still further increase of the disease.

A MORAL TIDE SETTING IN.

The Pall Mall Gazette Cases—Stead on the Verge of Fanaticism.

A London cable of the 20th says: The government prosecutor in the Pall Mall Gazette cases has intimated to the defendants his determination to oppose the production of evidence not bearing directly on the charge of abducting the girl Eliza Armstrong. Detective agents continue to scour the continent in search of cases to support the Gazette's revelations, the defence intending if Judge Vaughan refuses to hear them, to bring forward the witnesses to the "maiden tribute" disclosures on trial in the criminal court. Mrs. Jarrett has been in Paris, tracing an English female detective sent over by the government. She discovered procuress Jeffries at Brussels, and offered her a large sum to return to England and give evidence as to the position in society of houses where the traffic in young girls is alleged to have been carried on. It is reported that Jeffries is willing to make startling disclosures if guaranteed against further prosecution.

The Methodists and their agents are supporting Mr. Stead, the accused editor, and assert that they have unearthed evidence that Howard Vincent, director of the detective department of Scotland Yard, recently testified before a commission of the House of Lords to the effect that in many parts of London any number of girls of 14 or younger may be obtained for the vilest purposes. In fact he assured the commission that these children were regularly sold, with the full knowledge and connivance of their mothers, who looked to this means of meeting household expenses with unnatural complacency. The object is to show, through the police, that the new government were fully cognizant of the traffic in young girls, and that nothing was done toward preventing or checking the evil until the Pall Mall Gazette's revelations brought about the passage of the amendment to the criminal law.

SOME OF STEAD'S UTTERANCES.

It would seem from Mr. Stead's utterances at the Antwerp conference for governmental regulation of vice, that the now notorious editor has been carried to the verge of fanatism in the ardor of his investigations. In a long and impassioned speech he asked those differing from him as to the propriety of the means employed in his exposures to satisfy themselves once for all by expressing judgment even though it were an unjust judgment. "Let me be accused for time and for eternity," he exclaimed, "but let my accusers seek to do the work I tried to do by better means than I used. Even if you believe my work to be not inspired by God, even if you set it down to the devil, rejoice in the good that is coming from it." He implored the conference to assist in removing the "damnable enormities" of the regulation system. "It is slavery in the worst form," he continued. "If you could but feel that every outraged girl is a daughter or a sister you would realise that every one having anything to do with the infernal traffic, whether he be doctor or legislator, is accused before God and man, and should be shunned as a moral leper." Stead spoke with intense feeling, and was cheered to the echo. He declares his readiness to wear a convict garb, and seems anxious to pose as a martyr. The trial is costing him £400 he says, and as he cannot rely on Gen. Booth to defray the whole expense, he will not be surprised if every stick of his own is sold off. This is doubtful, however, as a moral tide is setting in strongly. Under orders of the home secretary the police have prohibited the sale of gutter sheets, and raid Haymarket and other haunts of abandoned women and clear the streets nightly.

Montreal's Sewerage.

A dispatch from Montreal of the 20th says the provincial board of health has received every assurance of co-operation in relation to the smallpox epidemic from every municipality except St. Henri, the officials of which place informed the board that they would take the matter into consideration on October 1. The board has resolved to take action under the section of the regulations which authorizes them to name local boards. Those persons charged with having come from foreign parts and concealing the presence therein of smallpox, will be prosecuted. The board has decided to ask the government to have all inmates of institutions receiving government aid, whether schools, jails, orphanages or asylums, vaccinated.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

THE Dominion government and the C. P. R. will unite to make a Manitoba exhibit at the Colonial Exhibition.

MARSHALL, the discoverer of gold in California, is to have a monument at Placerville.

THE net proceeds of the American concert in London for the benefit of Soudan soldiers were $5,000.

THE czar walks ten miles regularly every day and limits himself to one meal, in order to check a tendency to obesity.

GREAT BRITAIN and Ireland took $2,500,000 worth of the $3,379,000 worth of wheat exported from the U. S. in July.

OF the $4,000,000 worth of coal oil exported from the U. S. in July, England and Germany took $1,000,000 worth each.

ABOUT 200,000 acres of land have been taken up by the crofters from Scotland in the Moosomin district of the Northwest Territory.

A WRITER in the New York Tribune pleads for the raising of a GRANT library fund of $100,000,000 to found a library "that will eclipse the British museum in its usefulness."

REFERRING to the recent rebellion in the Northwest it is learned that this is the first time in the history of the Empire that a rebellion has been suppressed by citizen soldiers.

THE New York World prints replies from Democratic Congressmen and editors throughout the State, showing that while most of the Democratic leaders endorse the President's policy, the rank and file are, many of them, greatly dissatisfied with the President's course on the subject of offices.

THE Montreal Herald, which soon after the battle of Batoche expressed the hope that Her Majesty would be asked to show her approval of the services of the Volunteers by granting them a medal, wishes some one to explain why it was proper for SIR F. MIDDLETON and SIR A. CARON to be decorated with a star, and improper for the officers and men to wear the less pretentious medal.

DURING the last few months an epidemic of diphtheria is reported to have existed in the parish of St. Polycarpe, county of Soulanges. No less than 160 children are reported as having died from the disease during summer months. In one family alone eight children died. The epidemic now appears to have been stayed, as, during the last few days, only a few cases were reported.

THE foreign trade of France in the first seven months of the last two years was: Imports, 1885, 2,517,679,000 francs; 1884, 2,533,322,000f. Exports, 1885, 1,786,432,000f.; 1884, 1,739,308,000f. The imports in July amounted to 324,617,000f. and the exports to 218,617,000f. being an increase of over a million francs on each compared with the same month of 1884.

WHAT is said by the Record to be the largest invoice of diamonds, rubies and precious stones ever entered at the port of Philadelphia was recently received by S. M. & S. R FRIDENBURG & Co. Among the gems was a pure white diamond, absolutely perfect and perfectly cut, weighing twenty-seven carats, and valued at $30,000. The stone weighed seventy-two carats before being placed in the lapidary's hands.

A WRITER in the Week questions the justice of POUNDMAKER's sentence, and denies that a letter written in a language which he did not understand afforded conclusive proof of his guilt. He maintains that POUNDMAKER was upon his reserve at Cut Knife Creek. LAURA COUBRANE's testimony was wholly in favor of POUNDMAKER. POUNDMAKER declared at his trial that everything he could do was done to prevent bloodshed; and that had he wanted war he would not have been upon his trial, but upon the prairie.

SAYS the Toronto Monetary Times: People are beginning to realize what it means to have a Canadian railway from ocean to ocean. A shipment of six car loads of mill machinery, including engine and boilers, shipped by ROSS, HALL & Co., of Montreal, by the Canadian Pacific railway and its connections, arrived at Tacoma, British Columbia, in eighteen days from the date of shipment. This is considered quick despatch and the shippers may well be, as they are, satisfied therewith.

THE HUSBANDING OF OUR RESOURCES.

In another part of to-day's TIMES will be found a table showing the number of animals, their value and duty paid, entered at the port of Victoria for the year ending 30th of last June. Likewise is given the product of animals, the dairy, grain and its product, as well as provisions. The quantity, value and duty paid in each case can be relied on as absolutely correct, as they have been prepared for us through the kindness and courtesy of the customs officials, to whom THE TIMES on more than one occasion has been indebted for valuable information laid before our readers. The period has now been reached in our existence when it becomes necessary to point out the inevitable result that is certain to follow the unwarranted and entirely unnecessary drain that has so long hung as a millstone around the neck of our province. Practically the expenditure of the many millions that has been incurred in connection with the construction of the Canadian Pacific railway, since 1880, is now at an end. No sane person will assert that a changed condition in our affairs for a few years is not likely to take place. The effect of the building of the Island Railway on our trade and commerce is hardly perceptible, and a similar remark may be applied to the Esquimalt dry dock. The expenditure at the termini of the Canadian Pacific railway, as well as on the extension of the main line and the New Westminster branch, will have but a very slight influence on the circulation of money. All this is a lesson that to British Columbia may be fraught with much good and beneficial results flow therefrom. It is a sad commentary on our own resources that at least $500,000 a year of the hard earnings of our own people is sent to a foreign country for the necessaries of life, which can be raised within ourselves. The figures are positively startling, and unless our resources are husbanded and the farmers set themselves energetically to work to rectify the anomalous position we now occupy it is as certain as that one sun succeeds another the province will always be an excellent market for the products of foreign lands, for the cultivation of which our own province is possibly unrivalled. The earth is the source of all wealth, but if that of this province is not to be properly utilized, or the great natural resources we enjoy are not to be taken advantage of, there is very little hope of the province ever attaining to any degree of eminence; for if we cannot produce within ourselves the simplest of the necessaries of life what is to become of us? Are we to continue to be hewers of wood and drawers of water for others not so highly favored by any means as we are in respect of country and climate? In a short time transportation facilities between the coast and the interior will be such as to enable the farmers and stock ranchers of the upper country to take advantage of the Victoria, New Westminster, Nanaimo and other markets. The plea of prohibitory charges by our transportation companies will then cease, for the assurance is given by the General Manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway that a similar tariff will be adopted on this coast by that company as is now in force in the east. There will be consumers in the Province for all that can be produced for years to come. No calling is more honorable than that of farming; no investment so safe and sure in its returns. There are large areas of unproductive lands, still in virgin condition, within accessible distances of this city that could be made highly remunerative. It is a delusion to suppose that farming on a large scale pays as well as that of a well tilled section of 160 acres. In Ontario there are many farms of even 50 acres, that in consequence of the high state of cultivation to which they have been brought, yield greater returns than larger farms. So it will yet be demonstrated here that a moderate sized ranch can be made more remunerative than a poorly farmed tract of land. Were such a state of things now in vogue it would be found that instead of sending hundred of thousands of dollars out of the country yearly for butter, eggs, lard, potatoes, flour, oats, barley, wheat, bacon and hams, swine, and sheep British Columbia would become an exporter and show a respectable balance on the credit side of the provincial ledger, and until she is able to do this, as an agricultural country, she will occupy a very inferior position amongst the great farming countries of the American continent.

CANADIAN trade with the United States, so far as our imports thence are concerned, amounts to more than that of all South America, for while the Americans send four per cent of their total exports to South America, they send 5½ per cent to us. During the fiscal year 1884, ended 30th June, according to the U. S. Bureau of Statistics, Great Britain and Ireland took nearly 53 per cent of all the merchandise exported from the States. Germany, over 8; France, nearly 7; Spain, 1½; Brazil, 1; British West Indies, 1. The share purchased by the whole of Europe was a trifle over 79 per cent of the total export.

THE announcement recently made that the Salvation Army contemplates sending to Canada a large number of women who have been taken from the streets and undergone an alleged reforming process, has been received here in the only way in which it could have been received. The protest against it has been general. Canada is greatly in want of female servants; but she does not intend to take the risk of being supplied in this way. If any shipment of this class of females were to be made, it would have to be opposed. What has been done in the case of Chinese laborers, with little show of reason, would find emphatic justification in the case in question. In a word the reception of these immigrants would have to be refused.

THE HELLHOFF EXPLOSIVE.

The London Times gives particulars of the experiments and trials of a new explosive, known as hellhoffite, which has been invented by HELLHOFF and GAYSON, and has been subjected to comparative trials at St. Petersburg, together with nitro glycerine and ordinary gunpowder. It is a solution of a nitrated organic combination (naphthaline, phenol, benzine, &c.), in fuming nitric acid. In preparing the hellhoffite tried in the experiments, binitro-benzine, a solid, inexplosive and badly burning body, was used. At the first trial glass bottles of 20 cubic centimeters contents each were filled with 20 grammes of the respective explosive substances, and corked down. A tube filled with fulminate of mercury was passed through the corks, a slow match being attached to the outer end of the tube for the purpose of ignition. Each of the bottles thus prepared was placed on a truncated cone of lead, the upper diameter of which was 3 5 centimeters, its lower 4 5, and its height 6. The cone itself stood on a cast iron plate 2 5 centimeters thick. The deformation of the leaden cone by the action of the explosives could consequently be taken as a measure of their respective destructive power. The explosion of the gunpowder, as was expected, caused no changes. By the explosion of the nitro-glycerine the cone was compressed about a quarter of its height; its surface had assumed the appearance of a well worn hammer; the diameter of the surface had been increased to 5·5 centimeters. The explosion of the hellhoffite caused much greater changes. The surface of the cone was completely torn; pieces five centimeters long and two centimeters thick were torn off and thrown about for several paces; only half of the cone was still a compact but entirely defaced mass. At the second experiment bottles (of 25 grammes each) filled with the various explosive substances were let into corresponding cavities bored into fir blocks of similar dimensions. In exploding the gunpowder the block was torn into four pieces as if split with a hatchet, the several pieces were thrown about for 18, 12, 11 and 10 paces. In exploding the nitro-glycerine the block was split into several pieces. The upper portion of the block, as far as the bottles were let into it, was torn off perpendicularly in the direction of the fibre in such a manner that a smooth cut was formed. The explosion of the hellhoffite likewise tore the portion of the block surrounding the bottle perpendicularly in the direction of the fibre, and splintered the remainder of the block into a large number of thin fibres. The following experiments were also made with hellhoffite alone: A slow match was passed through the tube in the cork, which was without fulminate of mercury, as far as the surface of the hellhoffite in the glass bottle; no explosion followed on igniting the slow match. A quantity of hellhoffite poured into a bowl could not be exploded by a lighted match. Finally a few drops of hellhoffite were poured on an anvil and exposed to heavy blows with a hammer, and no explosion followed. The hellhoffite, consequently, possesses the following advantages; (1) In igniting it with fulminate or mercury it acts more powerfully than nitro-glycerine; (2) it may be stored with perfect safety as regards concussion, as it cannot be exploded either by a blow or a shock, nor by an open flame. On the other hand it has the following disadvantages: (1) Hellhoffite is a liquid; (2) the fuming nitric acid contained in hellhoffite is of such a volatile nature that it can be stored only in perfectly closed vessels; (3) hellhoffite is rendered completely inexplosive by being mixed with water, and can consequently not be employed for works under water.

IT is believed in New York that an effort will be made at the New York Republican State Convention to nominate ROSCOE CONKLING for governor.

THE Toronto Mail in discussing the kidnapping and subsequent escape of LAWRENCE BRAINERD, emphasizes once more the necessity for a more comprehensive extradition treaty between Great Britain and the United States. Canadians do not yearn for the company of fugitives from the United States. These men are by no means desirable immigrants. If any complaints should arise at their presence here, they should come from Canadians who have such society forced upon them, rather than from our American neighbors, at whose doors lies the responsibility for the narrowness of the present extradition arrangements.

IT appears that under a stupidly-worded or else an adroitly-worded section of the Franchise Act the number of new voters will be reduced from the expected 2,500,000 to about 1,000,000 in the coming election. Judges on the subject claim that not more than 500,000 new names will ultimately appear on the new lists. The section referred to prohibits persons who lodge on the premises of their employers from registering. This affects thousands of clerks. Among the classes excluded from registration are resident managers and attendants of asylums. About 6 per cent. of the applicants for registration are refused votes on account of technicalities.

MR. BRADLAUGH, who despite his unpopularity in many quarters, is nevertheless a shrewd political observer, said in a recent speech that he knew of no place, however, that had hitherto been Liberal that was going to vote Tory, while he knew of many places where Tory members had previously been returned where Liberals would at the next election head the poll. That is the report from every quarter. The small boroughs which might have changed have been swept away, and the Liberal counties, which also might have flopped over to the Conservatives, have been converted into Liberal strongholds by the extension of the franchise. Altogether the Tory outlook is not a hopeful one.

A Pretty Woman's Secret.

Fear of discovery, when she resorts to false hair and dyes, is a source of constant anxiety to her. The very persons from whom she most desires to hide the waning of her charms are the ones most likely to make the discovery. But there is no reason why she should not regain and retain all the beauty of hair that was her pride in youth. Let her use AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, and, not only will her hair cease to fall out, but a new growth will appear where the scalp has been denuded; and locks that are turning gray, or have actually grown white, will return to their pristine freshness and brilliance of color. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR cures

Hereditary Baldness.

GEORGE MAYER, Platonia, Texas, was bald at 23 years of age, as his ancestors had been for several generations. One bottle of HAIR VIGOR started a growth of soft, downy hair all over his scalp, which soon became thick, long, and vigorous.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

is not a dye, but, by healthful stimulation of the roots and color glands, speedily restores to its original color hair that is

Turning Gray.

MRS. CATHERINE DRESSER, Point of Rocks, Md., had her hair suddenly bleached by fright, during the late civil war. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR restored it to its natural color, and made it softer, glossier, and more abundant than it had been before.

Scalp Diseases

Which cause dryness, brittleness, and falling of the hair, dandruff, itching, and annoying sores, are all quickly cured by AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It cured HERBERT BOYD, Minneapolis, Minn., of intolerable Itching of the Scalp; J. N. CARTER, Jr., Occoquan, Va., of Scald Head; MRS. D. V. S. LOVELACE, Lawrenceville, Ky., of Tetter Sores; MISS BESSIE H. BEDLOE, Burlington, Vt., of Scalp Disease and Dandruff. Torpidity of the roots of the hair, which, if neglected, may result in incurable baldness, is readily cured by AYER'S HAIR VIGOR. As

IN LUCK AT LAST

BY WALTER BESANT.

CHAPTER 1—(Continued.)

Next there came two school boys together who asked for and bought a crib to Virgil, and then a girl who wanted some cheap French reading book. Just as the clock began to strike five Mr. Emblem lifted his head and looked up. The shop door opened, and there stepped in, rubbing his shoes on the mat as if he belonged to the house, an elderly gentleman of somewhat singular appearance. He wore a fur cap, but was otherwise dressed as an Englishman—in a black frock coat, that is, buttoned up—except that his feet were encased in black cloth shoes, so that he were noiselessly. His hair was short and white, and he wore a small white beard; his skin was a rather dark brown; he was, in fact, a Hindoo, and his name was Lala Roy.

He nodded gravely to Mr. James and walked into the back shop.

"It goes well," he asked, "with the buying and the selling?"

"Surely, Lala, surely."

"A quiet way of buying and selling; a way fit for one who meditates," said the Hindoo, looking round. "Tell me, my friend, what ails the child? Is she sick?"

"The child is well, Lala."

"Her mind wandered this morning. She failed to perceive a simple method which I tried to teach her. I feared she might be ill."

"She is not ill, my friend, but I think her mind is troubled."

"She is a woman. We are men. There is nothing in the world that is able to trouble the mind of the philosopher."

"Nothing," said Mr. Emblem manfully, as if he, too, was a Disciple. "Nothing, is there now?"

The stoutness of the assertion was sensibly impaired by the question.

"Not poverty, which is a shadow; nor pain, which passes; nor the loss of woman's love, which is a gain; nor fall from greatness—nothing. Nevertheless," his eyes did look anxious in spite of his philosophy, "this trouble of the child—will it be soon be over?"

"I hope this evening," said Mr. Emblem. "Indeed I am sure that it will be finished this evening."

"If the child had a mother, or a brother, or any protectors but ourselves, my friend, we might leave her to them. But she has nobody but you and me. I am glad that she is not ill."

He left Mr. Emblem, and passing through the door of communication between house and shop, went noiselessly up the stairs.

One more visitor—unusual for so many to call on a September afternoon. This time it was a youngish man of thirty or so, who stepped into the shop with an air of business and, taking no notice at all of the assistant, walked swiftly into the back shop, and shut the door behind him.

"I thought so," murmured Mr. James. "After he's been counting up his investments, his lawyer calls. More investments."

Mr. David Chalker was a solicitor and, according to his friends, who were proud of him, a sharp practitioner. He was, in fact, one of those members of the profession who, starting with no connection, have to make business for themselves. This, in London, they do by encouraging the county court, setting neighbors by the ears, lending money in small sums, fomenting quarrels, charging commissions, and generally making themselves a blessing and a boon to the district where they reside. But chiefly Mr. Chalker occupied himself with lending money.

"Now, Mr. Emblem," he said, not in a menacing tone, but as one who warns; "now, Mr. Emblem."

"Now, Mr. Chalker," the bookseller repeated mildly.

"What are you going to do for me?"

"I got your usual notice," the old bookseller began, hesitating, "six months ago."

"Of course you did. Three fifty is the amount. Three fifty, exactly."

"Just so. But I am afraid I am not prepared to pay off the bill of sale. The interest, as usual, will be ready."

"Of course. But this time the principal must be ready, too."

"Can't you get another client to find the money?"

"No, I can't. Money is tight, and your security, Mr. Emblem, isn't so good as it was."

"The furniture is there, and so is the stock."

"Furniture wears out; as for the stock—who knows what that is worth! All your books together may not be worth fifty pounds, for what I know."

"Then what am I to do?"

"Find the money yourself. Come, Mr. Emblem, everybody knows—your grandson himself told me—all the world knows—you've been for years saving up for your granddaughter. You told Joe only six months ago—you can't deny it—that whatever happened to you she would be well off."

Mr. Emblem did not deny the charge. But he ought not to have told this to his grandson, of all people in the world.

"As for Joe," Mr. Chalker went on, "you are going to do nothing for him. I know that. But is it business-like, Mr. Emblem, to waste good money which you might have invested for your granddaughter?"

"You do not understand, Mr. Chalker. You really do not, and I cannot explain. But about this bill of sale—never mind my granddaughter."

"You, the aforesaid Richard Emblem"—Mr. Chalker began to recite, without commas—"have assigned to me David Chalker aforesaid his executors administrators and assigns all and singular the several chattels and things specifically described in the schedule hereto annexed by way of security for the payment of the sum of three hundred and fifty pounds and interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent. per annum."

"Thank you, Mr. Chalker. I know all that."

"You can't complain, I'm sure. It is five years since you borrowed the money."

"It was fifty pounds and a box of old law books out of your office, and I signed a bill for a hundred."

"You forget the circumstances."

"No, I do not. My grandson was a rogue. One does not readily forget that circumstance. He was also your friend, I remember."

"And I held my tongue."

"I have had no more money from you, and the sum has become three hundred and fifty."

"Of course you don't understand law, Mr. Emblem. How should you? But we have worked for nothing. However, it isn't what you got, but what I am to get. Come, my good sir, it's cutting off your nose to spite your face. I lie and have done with it, even if it does—as a little dice off your granddaughter's fortune. Now look here"—his voice became persuasive—"why not take me into your confidence? Make a friend of me. You want advice; let me advise you. I can get you good investments—far better than you know anything of—good and safe investments—at six certain, and sometimes seven and even eight per cent. Make me your man of business—come now. As for this trumpery Bill of Sale—this trifle of three fifty, what is it to you? Nothing—nothing. And as for your intention to enrich your granddaughter, and cut off your grandson with a shilling, why I honor you for it—there, though he was my friend. For Joe deserves it thoroughly. I've told him so, mind. You ask Mr. Pye if I've told him so a dozen times. I've said: 'The old man's right, Joe! Ask him if I haven't.'"

This was very expansive, but somehow Mr. Emblem did not respond.

Presently, however, he lifted his head.

"I have three weeks still."

"And if I do not find the money within three weeks?"

"Why—but of course you will—but if you do not—I suppose there will be only one thing left to do—realize the security, sell up—stock and books and all."

"Thank you, Mr. Chalker. I will look round me, and—and—to say best. Good-day, Mr. Chalker."

"The best you can do, Mr. Emblem," returned the solicitor, "is to take me as your adviser. You trust David Chalker."

"Take me as your adviser. You trust David Chalker."

"Thank you. Good-day, Mr. Chalker."

On his way out Mr. Chalker stopped for a moment and looked round the shop.

"How's business?" he asked of the assistant.

"Dull, sir," replied Mr. James. "He throws it all away and neglects his chances. Naturally, being so rich——"

"So rich, indeed," the solicitor echoed.

"It will be bad for his successor," Mr. James went on, thinking how much he should himself like to be that successor. "The good will won't be worth half what it ought to be, and the stock is just selling to pieces."

Mr. Chalker looked about him again thoughtfully, and opened his mouth as if about to ask a question, but said nothing. He remembered, in time, that the shopman was not likely to know the amount of his master's capital or investments.

"There isn't a book even in the glass case that's worth a five-pound note," continued Mr. James, whispering, "and he don't look about for purchases, any more. Seems to have lost his pluck."

Mr. Chalker returned to the back shop.

"Within three weeks, Mr. Emblem," he repeated and then departed.

Mr. Emblem sat in his chair. He had to find three hundred and fifty pounds in three weeks. No one knew better than himself that this was impossible. Within three weeks! But, in three weeks he would open the packet of letters and give Iris her inheritance. At least, she would not suffer. As for himself—— He looked round the little back shop and tried to recall the fifty years he had spent there, the books he had bought and sold, the money which had slipped through his fingers, the friends who had come and gone. Why, as for the books, he seemed to remember them every one—his joy in the purchase, his pride in possession, and his grief at letting them go. All the friends gone before him, his trade sunk to nothing.

"Yet," he murmured, "I thought it would last my time."

But the clock struck six. It was his tea time. He rose mechanically, and went up stairs to Iris.

When Gen. Butler Went Tobogganing.

[St. Nicholas.]

When I first went to Washington, the western approach to the capitol, before the pending "improvements" were commenced, was through a fine old park, the heavy foliage of which in spring concealed much of the capitol from view. The approach then lay up two steep parallel terraces, which extended the whole length of the building. The pages, in winter time, took advantage of these declivities for coasting. Instead of sleds, however, they used certain large pasteboard envelope boxes, which they obtained from the folding rooms.

One day the terraces and park grounds were covered with a thick, hard crust of sleet; so the envelope boxes were brought out, and the merry tobogganing began. In the midst of the sport, Gen. Benjamin F. Butler, accompanied by a few other representatives, came along, and stopped on the parapet to witness the fun. As he seemed to enjoy the sight, one of the pages asked him if he would take a ride. After a brief deliberation, the general remarked: "Well, I think I will."

In a moment a box was placed at his disposal near the edge of the parapet, or upper terrace. In this, with considerable difficulty, the portly representative squeezed himself, and soon he stated that he was "ready." At the word, the pages gave a vigorous shove, and down he went with lightning swiftness, to the great delight of the assembled spectators. As with increased momentum he struck the second terrace, the box parted, and, with terrific speed he finished the trip "all by himself." And he was still going when lost to the distance of the park.

The Diggers' Family Luxury.

[Chicago Enterprise.]

The first operation is to dig a funnel-shaped hole, three feet across and three feet deep. Then the band scatter out on a skirmish line in different directions and commence sweeping and "driving" the hoppers toward the pithole, and by working around in a circle they gradually drive a good share of the orthopterous insects toward and into the holes, from which the poor hoppers "can ne'er come out again," until the frugal Indian lifts them out into a meal sack. The crawling, jumping mass in the pit, when the "drive" is done, would do any vengeful granger good, as he thinks of the horrid fate in store for his enemies, to be roasted to death at some Indian restaurant.

The process of cooking is unique, if not elegant. Hot stones are put into the sack and they are carefully shaken backward and forward together until the legs and wings of the hoppers are broken and burned off, when they are served without sauce in all the "Lo" caravansaries, and considered a great luxury. We were informed by a young buck that they were much better than white man's shrimps and he thought not so repulsive. Gen. Sidwell says the roasted hopper ground into meal is to the Digger family what a jar of quince preserves is to the child of the pale face.

The Fearless Kansas "Chigger."

[Topeka Commonwealth.]

The smallest and yet the most active thing I have seen in Kansas is a little red insect, commonly called a "chigger." Where he came from I know not; but this I do know—he delights in human gore. He is undoubtedly a hero, for he dies to accomplish his mission. He deliberately buries himself in one's flesh, and proceeds at once to die by the slow process of overeating. It takes from three to five days. Meanwhile his victim is possessed with an uncontrollable desire to scratch, and the more he scratches the more he wants to, until the fun changes to a fury, the fury to a frenzy.

Sometimes it is very embarrassing for the "chigger" has no regard for times and places. It interferes seriously with summer courtships, and this is not surprising, for surely no young man could make love and attend to the wants of "chiggers" at the same time. A whole family of them, consisting of father and mother and seven children, have made a burning grounds of my fated calves, and I must now lay down my pen and see that their graves are kept green.

Questions Answered.

Ask the most eminent physicians

Of any school, what is the best thing in the world for allaying all irritation of the nerves, and curing all forms of nervous complaints, giving natural, childlike refreshing sleep always

And they will tell you unhesitatingly

"Some form of Hops!!!"

CHAPTER I.

Ask any or all of the most eminent physicians:

"What is the only remedy that can be relied on to cure all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs; Bright's disease, diabetes, retention, or inability to retain urine, and all the diseases and ailments peculiar to Women"

And they will tell you emphatically and emphatically, "Buchu!!!"

Ask the same physicians

What is the most reliable and surest cure for all liver diseases or dyspepsia, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, malaria, fever, ague, &c.," and they will tell you

Mandrake! or Dandelion!!!!

Hence, when these remedies are combined with others equally valuable,

And compounded into Hop Bitters, such a wonderful and mysterious curative power is developed, which is so varied in its operations that no disease or ill health can possibly exist or resist its power and yet it is Harmless for the most frail woman, weakest invalid or smallest child to use.

CHAPTER I.

"Patients"

"Almost dead or nearly dying"

For years, and given up by physicians of Bright's and other kidney diseases, liver complaints, severe coughs, called consumption, have been cured.

Women gone nearly crazy!!

From agony of neuralgia, nervousness, wakefulness, and various diseases peculiar to women.

People drawn out of shape from excruciating pangs of rheumatism, inflammatory and chronic or suffering from scrofula.

Erysipelas!

Saltrheum, blood poisoning, dyspepsia, indigestion, and, in fact, almost all diseases frail Nature is heir to

Have been cured by Hop Bitters, proof of which can be found in every neighborhood in the known world.

The Governor-General

And suite, it has been ascertained, will reach Port Moody on Tuesday, the 6th of October, from the east, via the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The Lieutenant-Governorship.

News comes from the east of the marriage of Senator Nelson and Miss Stanton, a lady well known and highly esteemed in Ottawa society. The auspicious event suggests the probability of Senator Nelson being our next Lieutenant-Governor; an appointment which would be hailed with satisfaction by all classes in this province. The Senator is one of the 1858 pioneers; a gentleman who has been identified with the interest and material prosperity of this province for over a quarter of a century. In the early days of the country's history he endured with others the hardships incidental to pioneer life. In company with Mr. John Kurtz he built the first boat that ascended the Fraser as far as Yale, Hope being the head of navigation for sometime. The Yale subsequently met with a misfortune, but Yale became thereafter the head of navigation. With many other enterprises his name has been associated. The fitting climax to such an active life would be the gubernatorial chair of the Province, for which he has done so much.

It is understood that the happy couple will visit Britain and the continent, on their wedding tour, ere they return to this province.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—Before purchasing Real Estate or insuring your life, see Rand Bros.

—Mr. R.W. Savage has erected a handsome private residence at the corner of Cook and View streets.

—The mile race at the roller skating rink last night between C. Lewis, of the Triumph, and Geo. Gordon, of the city, was won easily by the former.

—Robert Newell, colored, a well-known drayman and an early pioneer, died at St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday, aged 54 years.

—Another big gang of Chinese railway navvies, numbering about one hundred, came down on the Western Slope to-day. They were an exact counterpart of Saturday's consignment.

—Mr. DeCosmos' new block on Government street is progressing rapidly. Only white labor is employed, a fact that should be mentioned to Mr. DeCosmos' credit.

—The Times did not say, as stated by the Colonist that the row at Esquimalt was "in" the Ship Inn. "Truthful" David is fabricating again.

RAILROADING IN THE ROCKIES

The Work Being Pushed Day and Night—The Electric Light Used.

A gentleman in connection with the C. P. R. reached Winnipeg from the mountains on the 14th inst. He made a note of the rapid progress being made toward the completion of the C. P. R. The rails are laid from this end to within a few miles of the second crossing of the Columbia river, at which place the town of Farwell is situated. A large number of men are vigorously engaged laying track—not even the darkness of the night causing a cessation of their labors, as the electric light is brought into requisition. The track is completed from the west to Eagle Pass Landing, forty-seven miles west of Farwell, at which point the supply of rails became exhausted. This fact will delay the completion of the road about two weeks later than anticipated, as the iron will have to be laid on the unfinished portion of Onderdonk's work from this side. The grading will all be completed about three weeks hence, and probably the middle of next month will witness the laying of the connecting rail on our great national highway.

The Row at Esquimalt.

Messrs. P. J. McDonald and A. Whitlock, proprietors of the Ship Inn, at Esquimalt, write to a morning paper in reference to the row referred to in last evening's TIMES. The accuracy of our statement is not impeached in the slightest; but in order that no improper inference may be drawn from the item, the explanation of the gentlemen above named is cheerfully given: "A party of about twenty people, in different carriages, under the influence of liquor, arrived at the Ship Inn on the night in question, from Goldstream. Our house was open at the time, and on their arrival they filled up every room. They evidently had a grievance amongst themselves which they wished to settle at Esquimalt. We refused them liquor, and with assistance managed to get them out. They then engaged in a fight on the street, where we believe one of them received injuries from a blow evidently from a loaded cane. The injured man was attacked on account of his refusal to amicably arrange for the payment of $5 for hack hire."

Temperance Centennial.

The centennary celebration, given by the ladies of the Y. W. C. T. U. in the Pandora street temperance hall last evening was largely attended by ladies and gentlemen of the city and vicinity. Solos were rendered very acceptably by Mrs. Clyde and Mr. Marshbank. The choir also sang several choice selections. A vote of thanks was moved by Hon. J. Robson to the ladies for their hospitality. The president, Mrs. Spofford, presided and thanked the audience for their good wishes.

Several agricultural fair associations, including St. Louis, have written Mr. Bonner on the subject of exhibiting Maud S. at their fairs. Mr. Bonner has decided to bring the mare home to his stables in New York and to enjoy the pleasure of driving her himself.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

Public Meeting to Consider Arrangements for Reception.

The meeting at the City hall last night held pursuant to the call of the Mayor, although not a very large was an influential and representative one. Amongst others in the audience were three members of the local government, the city representatives in the commons, Mayor Rithet, Messrs. Fell, Boyd, Earle, Ward, McLean, Todd, Carey, Hayward, Dalby, Capts. Wolfenden, Prior, Jones, and many other prominent business men.

His Worship the Mayor was voted to the chair, and Mr. J. D. Robinson was elected secretary.

The chairman explained the object of the meeting, which was to arrange for a reception to be tendered to the Governor General and ministers, who were about to visit this city. He had no further intention of the contemplated visit than had been published by the press. They would probably remain here a few days. Apart from the object of the visit he hoped the people of Victoria would give then a suitable reception. Some definite decision should be come to at this meeting as the time was short.

Mr. W. McNiffe objected to giving Gen. Middleton, the Minister of Militia, and others of their party a separate reception. If they came with the Governor, all right; if not, ignore them.

Mr. J. H. Todd asked if anything had been done to ascertain if these gentlemen were going to be here simultaneously. If they were it would be comparatively easy; but if not it might necessitate a separate reception, which would be rather difficult. Some of the members of the local government, who were present, might know something about the matter.

The chairman understood there was no official intimation further than a note from the Governor-General to the Lieut.-Governor, informing him of his approaching visit.

Mr. Jas. Fell said that some plan should been prepared and submitted. He would suggest a public dinner to the Governor-General and the gentlemen coming along with him. When they arrive in the city they should be met with an address of welcome. He deprecated triumphal arches. Let us receive them cordially and as men.

Mr. Wm. Dalby said that while a dinner might be agreeable to some, he thought that if the Mayor and Council appointed a civic holiday and the people assembled at Beacon Hill, where sports and games could be held, it would be more acceptable, and more would enjoy themselves in this way. Afterwards a dinner might be given at night.

Mr. Jas. Fell moved, seconded by Mr. W. Dalby, that the Mayor appoint a committee to decide on the best way to receive the Governor-General and Ministers, and report at a future meeting.

Mr. D. W. Higgins said the resolution did not cover the whole ground, as Gen. Middleton's name was not included.

Mr. Fell said his intention was to include all who were coming, and the resolution was amended accordingly.

The chairman then appointed the following committee: Hon. W. Smithe, W. C. Ward, Dr. Matthews, J. H. Todd, Jas. Fell, Wm. Dalby, Sir M. B. Begbie, R. Dunsmuir, A. McLean, D. W. Higgins, E. C. Baker, M.P., N. Shakespeare, M.P., C. Hayward, John Boyd, Hon. S. Duck, R. E. Jackson, Hon. A.E. B. Davie, Theo. Davie, Col. Holmes, Capt. Wolfenden, J. H. Innes, D. Oppenheimer, and the Mayor and Council.

Mr. Burgess suggested the names of Admiral Seymour and Col. Holmes, and Mr. Baker suggested that of D. Oppenheimer.

The chairman notified the committee to meet at the Mayor's office to-night at 8 o'clock, and the committee then adjourned.

THE FARWELL DIFFICULTY.

Col Herchmer Goes to Farwell to investigate the Difficulty Between the Officials.

Some little time since, says the Calgary Herald, one of the Dominion special constables in the district of Kootenay, of the name of Ruddick, arrested a whiskey trader within the forty-mile belt of railroad, inside of which the sale of liquor is prohibited. There appears to have been something not altogether straight about the transaction. At any rate the whiskey man had the special constable arrested under a warrant of Judge Sproat, the British Columbian magistrate at Farwell, for stealing his liquor. Now the Dominion constables in the belt are under the orders of G. Hope Johnston, commissioner of the peace. This latter gentleman considered that, if one of his own men was to be tried, he had as good a right to try him as Judge Sproat. Accordingly, on the appointed day, after the judge had taken his seat in court with all due formality, the commissioner entered and set up his tribunal at the opposite end of the room. The judge tried the prisoner and found him guilty; the commissioner tried him, too, and found him not guilty. Then the Provincial Constables advanced to lead Ruddick off to jail and the Dominion Constable stood up to defend him. After a short but exciting contest, during which the Judge and the Commissioner were each of them arrested several times and released, the Provincial party prevailed, and Mr. Johnston and one of his constables were conveyed to durance vile, where, according to the latest information obtainable, they are still languishing.

Col. Herchmer went to Farwell Sunday, the 6th inst., to hold an investigation into the recent conflicts between the Dominion and British Columbia authorities at that point. We have not heard whether G. Hope Johnston is yet out of the vile durance into which he was cast by the British Columbia police, but it strikes us that there will be more fun over G. Hope's case than one could agitate a palm tree at. The Dominion police claim action under the Public Works Act, and the British Columbia police probably under the statute of 91 Henry 8th, that no cure which is worse than the pain need be endured.

Grand Mountain Scenery.

Mr. James Trow, M. P., who is one of the opposition whips, and a great admirer of the Northwest, recently made a trip as far as Farwell in this Province. On his return to Winnipeg he stated to a Free Press representative that Mr. Ross was energetically pushing construction; that his pay roll was $300,000 a month, and that but about forty miles of track remained to be laid to meet the west end. Like other travelers, he is enthusiastic in his description of the mountain scenery. He bathed in the Banff sulphur springs, which he thinks will yet become as popular as the sulphur springs of Arkansas.

The Escaped Convict.

Frank Angelo, the Washington Territory convict, whose extradition is being applied for, was brought before Sir M. B. Begbie, Chief Justice, to-day, on an application for his extradition made by Messrs. Davie & Pooley on behalf of the U. S. government. Prisoner was remanded until next Tuesday.

EXTRADITED.

Hibbs Taken Away by U. S. Officers Heavily Manacled.

The prisoner Hibbs, in charge of Officers Murphy and Church, of the U. S. post office service, was taken from the city goal to-day and put on board the Olympian en route to Salem, Oregon, where he will be detained until the holding of the Lewiston, Idaho, assizes. If convicted then, as there is very little reason to doubt he will be, he will serve his term of imprisonment in the Boise City penitentiary. All the documents and papers bearing on the case were given to Inspector Murphy and will be used against the prisoner on his trial. The money found on the prisoner, some $10,500, less $500 paid to Mr. Theodore Davie, counsel for the defence, by the warden of the gaol, and $250 subsequently paid to Mr. Davie by order of the Chief Justice, was also delivered to the United States authorities. The prisoner was heavily ironed, a weight of fully twenty pounds being attached to one of his legs. Almost up to the hour of his removal Hibbs had been kept ignorant of his departure, and when finally told that he would be taken away to-day, his coolness and apparent indifference gave way, and he was perceptibly agitated. At the appearance of his wife's photograph great tears welled up, and the strong man groaned and hung his head in the anguish of his heart. Or perhaps, considering that he has remained callous and insensible to his position for so long a time he was affected more by the punishment to come, and the fear that he would naturally enter in at having to face his old friends at Lewiston, than by any real contrition for the past. A carriage conveyed him to the steamer and a considerable crowd of spectators assembled to see him off. The officers in charge have taken every precaution to prevent his escape, and from the extraordinary weight attached to the prisoner's legs they seem to have had the impression that an attempt would be made by the prisoner to regain his liberty. An attempt of that kind is certain to prove abortive.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Edwin Johnson, Esq., S. M.)

James Walsh, on remand from the 21st inst., charged with vagrancy. The Superintendent said that he had no witness to call, but in the meantime asked that prisoner be admitted to liberty on entering on his own recognizance to appear again in one month. The court so ordered.

Johnny, a Fort Rupert Indian, drunk; fined $5 and $1 costs.

Ah Hong, stealing chickens. Prisoner was arrested this morning about daylight by Constable Walsh. He had two chickens—a brown and a black one—in a bag, which were evidently stolen. On being informed by Mr. Vrooman of the charge, prisoner said that he had broken his back some time ago, and out of pure necessity had taken the birds. Sent to prison for one month.

Sergt. John Cox, charged by Captain Green with neglecting to attend the drill of the V. F. C. on the 11th of September. Defendant admitted that he had not attended, but claimed that his business would not permit him to do so. He had to remain in his grocery up to 8 and 9 o'clock at night, and it was altogether impossible for him to get away. His wife's health prevented her from remaining in the shop at that hour, and he could not afford to pay a man to take his place. The magistrate thought that when a man found himself in that position he should resign from the force, but Sergt. Cox stated that while he was willing to resign he could not get his discharge. Fined five dollars.

Sergt. Wm. Bickford, non-attendance at drill. This was a similar case to that of Sergt. Cox, giving as an excuse that his health would not permit, and that he had received no notice. There was, besides, no necessity for drill, he thought. Fined $5 or one week.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Missionaries Wanted.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR:—Will you be so obliging as to state whether those two men that have pea nut stands, one on Government and the other on Johnson streets, have authority or permission from the Mayor and council, as well as the police authorities, to sell on the Sabbath day? I hope the Christian people will use their influence in striving to put a stop to such a traffic. Is there nothing for professing Christians to do here beyond going to church and invoking God's blessing on their works? Let them look around, and if unable to discover any work for them to do in the Master's vineyard, may God help them! We need many earnest, energetic, fearless missionaries in Victoria. A READER.

Victoria, Sept. 22, 1885.

Public Receptions.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR:—Admitting it to be the duty of the civic and governmental authorities to receive public functionaries with a certain amount of ostentatious, it hardly seems dignified on the part of the public to bestow a sycophantic attention to persons either elected or appointed to perform the duties required of them. So far as the Governor-General is concerned he is simply performing a duty for which he is well paid, and the others may be coming to air themselves at the public expense. Whatever merit or genius appertains to any of them, by all means let it receive proper recognition in the shape of manly respect; but when carried to extremes it only creates a feeling of contempt in the minds of those whom it is intended to honor. A little more of MAN infused into the people of this country generally would be both appreciative and wise. NEMO.

King Tye Company.

With reference to the special notice in to-day's Colonist signed King Tye & Co., I would beg to inform the trade and public generally that I was not, as stated, discharged from business connected with that firm.

In May, 1884, I became manager in this firm, and up to yesterday, when I tendered my resignation. It is easy to see that all transactions made by me personally, or under my signature as representative of the firm, must be valid, and for which King Tye Co. are responsible.

The sole cause of my resignation was a disagreement with my only resident partner.
